

Journalist

GRV has a number of media brands, including HITC and Reality Titbit.

We have a talented team of journalists and media professionals who cover football, entertainment and gaming. Our brands are seen by tens of millions of unique users each month, but we are looking to expand our reach further and leverage opportunities in the post-Covid world.

We are now looking for people who can bring more than just their keyboard and a few years' experience. We want to speak to individuals who not only have the skills to write creative articles, but understand how content can engage with a mass audience.

To be a candidate for these roles you will have good writing skills, a strong knowledge of a specialist area, and be able to identify and craft articles designed to generate traffic through Google searches, social media or news aggregation apps.

This is an opportunity for candidates to be part of something with scale, but to build their own specialist areas within our businesses.

So, if you are a writer with a strong and demonstrable track record in SEO and / or social media who is also entrepreneurial enough to see this as an opportunity, then we want to hear from you. Please note that we are not looking for UK football writers.

Interested candidates should please send in a CV, with a brief pitch on what area(s) they want to cover (and why), and how they think they can add value to our business to: job-applications@grv.media
