

Senior Writers in Entertainment/Gaming

GRV Media is one of the UK's largest independent media companies, with over 120 website and YouTube content producers.

The company is currently looking for experienced entertainment and gaming writers to join popular websites HITC, The Focus, Reality Titbit and DualShockers. Together, these entertainment and gaming verticals attract a growing audience of over 40m users each month.

To be a candidate for these roles, you will have general writing experience covering areas which may include: gaming, anime, comics, culture, reality TV, movies, music, celebrity news and K-pop. You will have the ability to identify trending topics, and have a good understanding of a variety of strategies to build and retain audiences.

As a Senior Writer, you will be expected to help fellow professionals and, in time, may be given a part of the business to lead.

This is a work-from-home role, and we are happy to receive applications from any part of the globe.

We will accept applications from individuals looking for either permanent, part-time or freelance roles.

GRV Media has a performance based culture, and, in addition to a competitive base salary, all staff are eligible for participation in our discretionary bonus scheme.

Applying

Apply via email using the link below. Please send a CV, covering letter and a link to samples of your work to:

Apply Here

If we think you're a good fit we'll arrange a telephone call with you soon after that.

We are an equal opportunities employer.